Dear Mr. Mahalingam,

I was delighted to hear about the newly formed Association for Healthcare Management Professionals. It gives me great pleasure to send you a message for your souvenir and website.

In today's healthcare scenario it is very important to have an association where all healthcare management professionals can come together, and by creating this association you have provided a much needed platform, which as you point out can combine the benefits of research, health infrastructure and clinical care through a collective approach. This will definitely translate into better healthcare for people by making it more affordable. Moreover, the best practices of one organisation or healthcare professional can be adopted by others. I am sure that this will be a grand success and I send you my very best wishes for the new association.

Dear Mr. Mahalingam,

Healthcare profession is a noble one as it mitigates suffering and saves precious lives. Therefore, it deserves to be respected by the society. I salute all the healthcare professionals who brave the corona virus and serve mankind, risking their own lives and jeopardizing their own families.

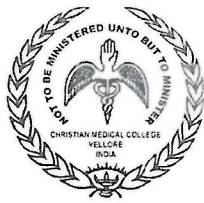

I am glad to know the formation of Association for Healthcare Management Professionals (India) with an objective of contributing to the holistic growth of the healthcare industry through proactive interventions.

Though the health services in India are of high standards, unfortunately, those services are unaffordable to most of our population. Healthcare costs need to be brought down drastically through innovations. We can think of some model of cross subsidizing so as to make them accessible to the poor people.

I hope and wish that AHMP (I) would make a huge difference in the lives of the downtrodden by the synergic endeavors by its members. My sincere best wishes for their strength and growth.

MESSAGE

Dear Mr. A Mahalingam,

Thanks for the request for a message for Association for Healthcare Management Professionals - India.

Message for healthcare professionals: 3 C model.

1. Competence: since knowledge in healthcare is doubling in every 5 years, continuous updating of knowledge and skills are absolutely necessary. Otherwise one will become obsolete in no time. Attending conferences, seminars apart from reading journals should be part of your profession.

2. Commitment: there are 3 levels of commitment.

- a. Contractual form of commitment. Contract between employer and employee, between patient and doctor. A good professional should rise to higher levels of commitment.
- b. Dedication form of commitment. Very often one has to sacrifice personal conveniences, comforts for the sake of a higher cause for which he has dedicated himself. Namely patient care.
- c. one should rise to still higher level namely devotional form of commitment. Here you enjoy working for the cause and look for Moore and more opportunities to work for the cause. Devotion implies unconditional and enjoyment.

3. The third quality required is compassion- towards patients and their relative. One should consider every patient like his own close relative. Not only he should treat his physical disability but also mental anxiety.

All the best Mahalingam,
Warm regards

Dear Shri Mahalingam,

I am very happy to know about the formation of "Association for Healthcare Management Professionals to fulfill a long felt need and gap in terms of providing quality health care to the public at large.

I entirely agree a single organization which would combine the benefits of research, health infrastructure and clinical care through a collective and holistic approach to the field of health care is the need of the hour. This would enhance the efficacy of health care dispensing, rate and speed of recovery, lower mortality rate, and make healthcare more affordable.

I wish "AHMP(I) - Association for Healthcare Management Professionals (India), grand success in contributing to the holistic growth of Healthcare industry through proactive interventions.

A Much Needed Venture to Unite Healthcare's Diverse Branches

India is a vast country with a varied healthcare topography. The knowledge and experience from the different corners of India is a treasure trove that can bring us to a better understanding of healthcare management in India. The synergy of a collective approach to healthcare and research is essential to innovate ideas and keep pace with medical developments and technology.

The AHMP(I) - Association for Healthcare Management Professionals (India) is a well-thought out and necessary endeavour to bring Indian healthcare under one umbrella. It's Time to bring together physicians and healthcare management professionals from all branches of medicine to facilitate organised, proficient treatment and research is gargantuan and one that has been taken up by some of the most competent professionals I have had the pleasure of working with. Their Goal to achieve the pinnacle of serving India's need for a coordinated and all-inclusive platform to collect and disseminate research, developments in health infrastructure and clinical care is indeed a praiseworthy enterprise.

Sankara Nethralaya wishes the AHMP(I) the very best in this unique undertaking to incentivize India's healthcare management and research. This association helps fill the need for a central meeting point that enriches the current environment of scientific curiosity and assisting healthcare professionals in fine-tuning their knowledge and in dispensing healthcare.

AHPM(I) - May the endeavour to unite all healthcare specialities in India in the pursuit of the wellness and wellbeing of our fellow citizens bring you many accolades and blessings in the coming decades.

Thanks and best wishes.

Association of Healthcare Management Professionals - India

Dear Shri A Mahalingam,

Greetings from Organized Medicine Academic Guild - OMAG!

I am highly elated to learn that a committed group of healthcare professionals from different specialties and streams have brought about a synergy of their learning and experience by forming the AHMP (Association of Healthcare Management Professionals) (India) with the core objective of enhancing the quality and reach of healthcare by adopting a holistic approach to its dispensing.

It is most heartening to note AHMP would serve as a vibrant platform for knowledge sharing, debate, updating of knowledge and real time experience from across the globe and act as a pivotal forum to facilitate dialog and interaction of healthcare professionals with national and international regulatory bodies including the government bodies. While different disciplines and specialties of Medicare have their registered associations, the need of the hour is a body like the AHMP - India.

On behalf of Organized Medicine Academic Guild - OMAG, I extend my wholehearted welcome and convey my sincere best wishes for its functioning and success.
